ASKUL Corporation (hereinafter the Company) would like to express its sincerest apologies for causing a great deal of inconvenience and concern to the neighborhood residents and other stakeholders due to the fire which occurred at the ASKUL Logi PARK Tokyo Metropolitan (Location: 1163 Kamitome, Miyoshimachi, Iruma-gun, Saitama; hereinafter the Company's Logistics Center) on February 16, 2017.

Impact towards the Company's business results due to the fire is currently undetermined and ongoing investigations are being made.

Meanwhile, the Company has received many inquiries on the status of its assets at the time of the fire and on insurances.

For reference, the Company would like to take this opportunity to inform the following: book value of non-current assets recorded in the balance sheet at the end of the previous month of the fire (as of January 20, 2017); book value of inventories recorded in the system immediately before the fire on February 16, 2017; and the payout limit of the insurances on the said assets.

Inventories	2,517

(Note) Other than the items noted above, 4,726 million yen for land and 2,046 million yen for leased assets are accounted for as assets.

The final amount of losses related to the assets listed above is expected to be the amount obtained by deducting the received insurance proceeds from the book value of the assets that were burnt or damaged due to the fire. However, determination of the amount of insurance proceeds will take some time, thus the timings of recording the gains and losses may differ. Figures for property, plant and equipment, leased assets and software are book values as of January 20, 2017; and figure for inventories is the book value recorded on the system immediately before the fire on February 16, 2017.
